

The Whiting School of Engineering presents the 2008 Ilene Busch-Vishniac Lecture:

WHITING
SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

JOHNS HOPKINS
UNIVERSITY

Kristina M. Johnson
Provost, Johns Hopkins University
Monday, April 7, 4 p.m.

State of the Art of 3D Theater and Home Cinema

Computational Science and Engineering Building Auditorium / Reception to follow

Provost Kristina M. Johnson is a research pioneer in the field of smart pixel arrays, 3D imaging, and color management systems. Her lecture will focus on the latest 3D technologies in electronic media as well as Johns Hopkins' potential to produce leading research that will transform the future of film, television, gaming, and the Internet.