Rules and Conditions

Yes, there are rules. There have to be. And, yes, you're allowed to break them. But then you won't win. But we don't need to tell you this, do we?

- * Total length of video must be between two and three minutes.
- * It must fall within one of the four themes (see page 1)
- * A waiver and submission form signed by you and/or all of your team members must be submitted.
- * Signed release forms from anyone else who appears in the video must be submitted.
- * No copyrighted material may be used. The Digital Media Center has many resources and web links for copyright free material and music (digitalmedia.jhu.edu).
- * The video must be G to PG-13 rated.
- * The video must adhere to the Johns Hopkins University Undergraduate Code of Conduct. This can be found at http://www.advising.jhu.edu/academic_manual/standards.html

In addition to the video competition screening, the Whiting School of Engineering may use stills, clips, or the entirety of certain videos for use as promotional material either on the web or in print.

All video submissions must be in NTSC format. You must submit a data DVD with either a .avi or .mov file at 720x480 resolution NTSC format for screening purposes AND a video DVD for judging purposes. If you have questions or concerns about the differences contact the Digital Media Center.

I agree to the above Rules and Conditions and the information submitted above is true to the best of my knowledge:
